

EEMB URS Presenter Survey: Barriers to Symposium Participation

EEMB URS 2023 Presenter Survey: "Have you ever attended a research symposium in the past?"

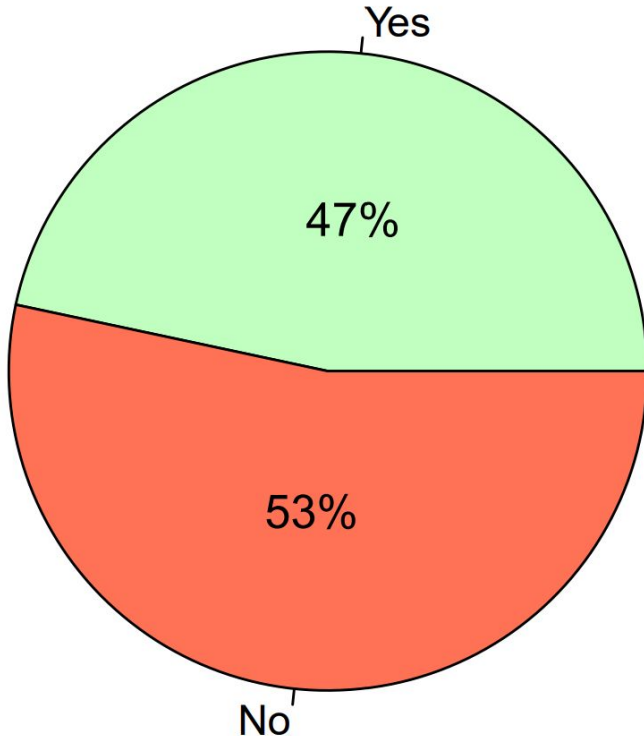

Fig 1. 53% of presenters who responded to our survey answered that they have never attended a research symposium before. Of those, 87.5% cited lack of opportunity and 37.5% additionally cited travel and/or financial burdens as their reasons for EEMB URS 2023 being their very first research symposium experience. (n=15).

EEMB URS 2023 Participation Survey: Self Selected Ethnic Identities of all presenters

Q3b: “How would you best describe yourself?”

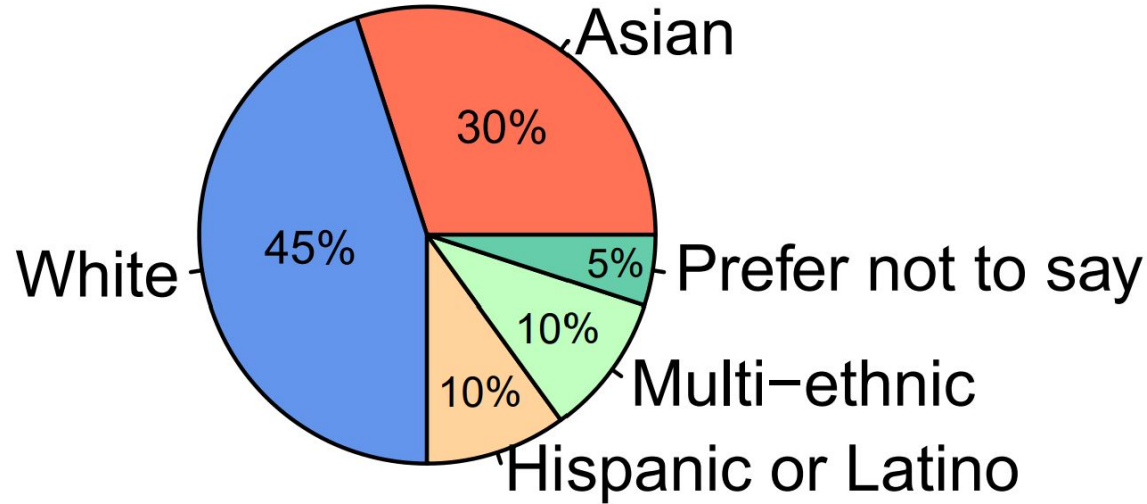

Fig 2. Breakdown of self-selected ethnic identity across all URS 2023 presenters. 45% of presenter responses are selections of “white”, 30% selections of “asian”, 10% selections of “hispanic or latino”, 10% selections of “multi-ethnic”, and 5% selections of “prefer not to say”. Rounded to the nearest percent. n=15 participants with 3 respondents selecting multiple options.

EEMB URS 2023 Participation Survey: Self Selected Ethnic Identities of poster presenters

Q3b: “How would you best describe yourself”

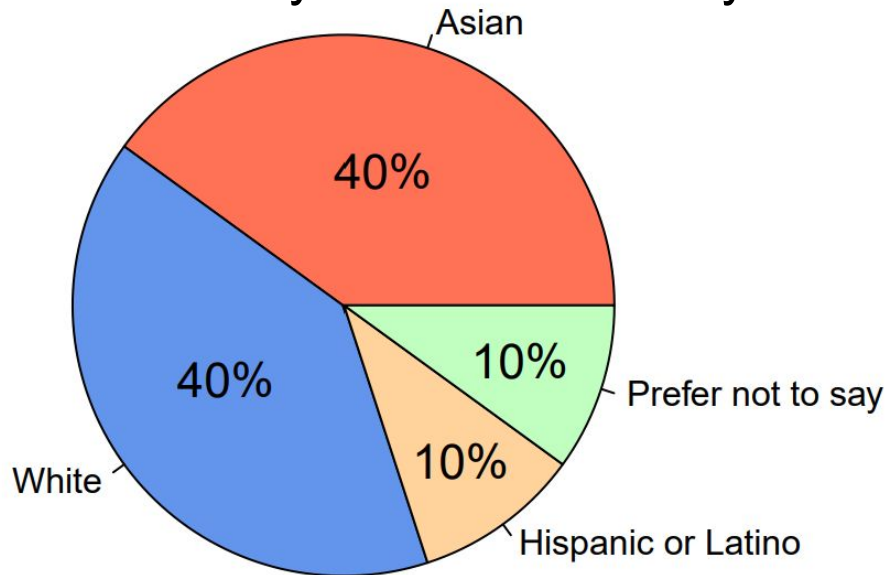

Fig 3. Breakdown of self-selected ethnic identity across URS 2023 poster presenters. 40% of presenter responses are selections of “white”, 40% selections of “asian”, 10% selections of “hispanic or latino”, and 10% selections of “prefer not to say”. Rounded to the nearest percent. n=10 participants with 1 respondent selecting multiple options.

EEMB URS 2023 Participation Survey: Self Selected Ethnic Identities of talk presenters

Q3b: “How would you best describe yourself?”

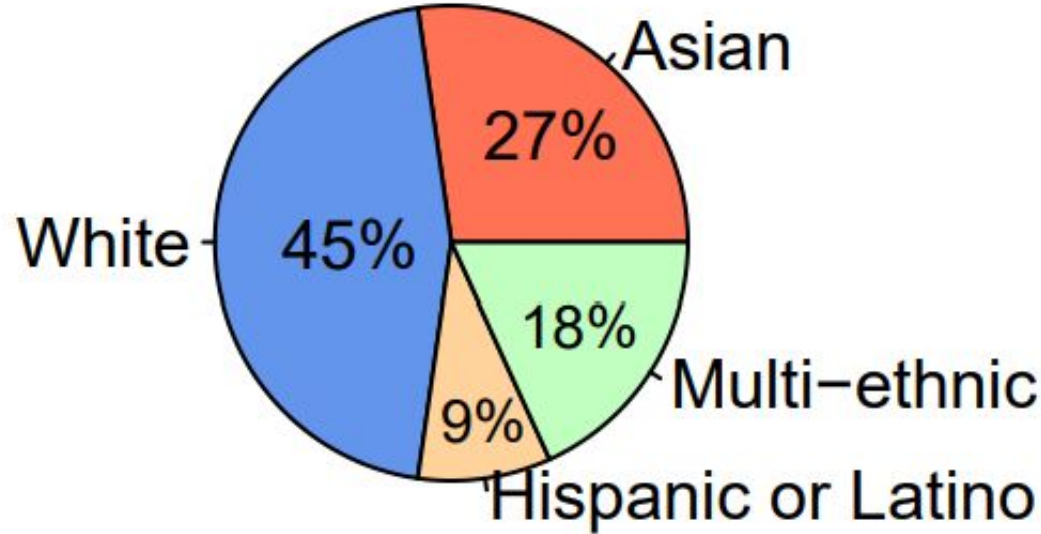

Fig 4. Breakdown of self-selected ethnic identity across URS 2023 poster presenters. 45% of presenter responses are selections of “white”, 27% selections of “asian”, 9% selections of “hispanic or latino”, and 18% selections of “Multi-ethnic”. Rounded to the nearest percent. n=10 participants with 2 respondents selecting multiple options.

EEMB URS 2023 Participation Survey: Inclusivity in Sexual Orientation

Q2: “What is your sexual identity?”

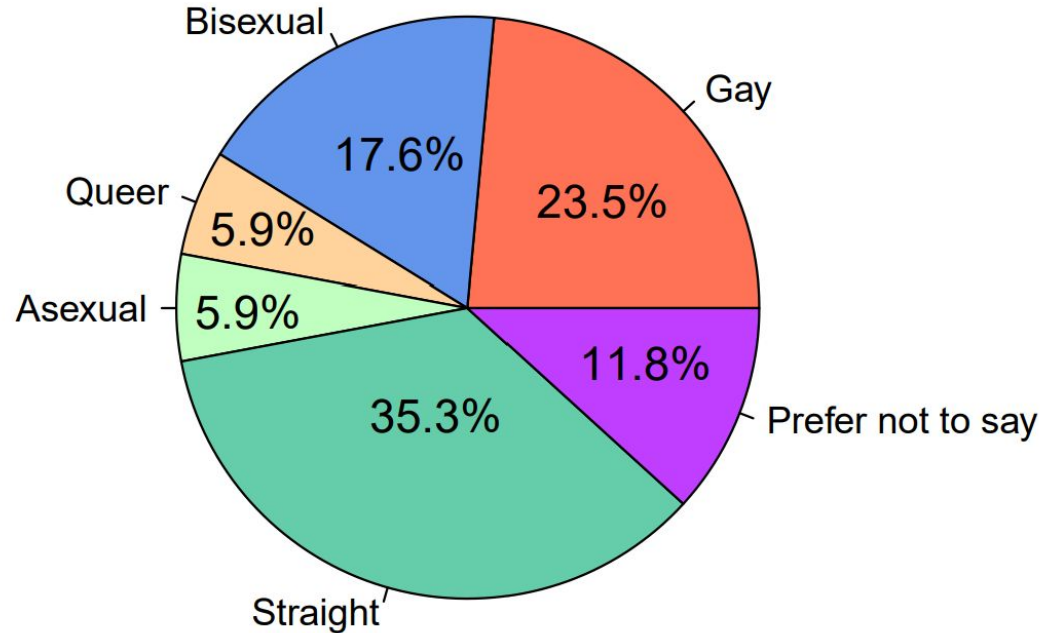

Fig 3. Breakdown of self selected sexual orientation identity responses across URS 2023 presenters. 35.3% of respondents selected “straight”, 23.5% selected “gay”, 17.6% selected “bisexual”, 5.9% selected “queer”, 5.9% selected “asexual”, and 11.8% preferred not to say. n=15 with some respondents selecting multiple options.